

Indiana Height Mod Home Page

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window. The title bar reads "Home - Microsoft Internet Explorer provided by Woolpert, Inc.". The address bar contains the URL "https://projects.woolpert.com/ispls/". The browser's menu bar includes File, Edit, View, Favorites, Tools, and Help. The toolbar contains various navigation and utility icons. The main content area has a green header with navigation links: Home, Documents, Discussion Boards, Lists, Create, Site Settings, and Help. Below the header is the site's logo and title: "Indiana Height Modernization Home". A central message states: "This project web site is dedicated to activities of the ISPLS GPS-GIS Monumentation Committee and the IGIC Geodetic and Elevation Framework Layer Workgroup." The page is divided into three main sections: "Announcements" (with a link to "Add new announcement"), "Events" (with a link to "Add new event"), and "Links" (with a link to "Add new link"). The "Links" section lists: "National Land Parcel Data: A Vision for the Future", "Woolpert Inc. Home", and "ISPLS Home Page". On the left side, there is a "Quick Launch" menu with links to "Shared Documents", "General Discussion", "Contacts", "Tasks", "Hamilton County Reference Ties", "ISPLS HARN Committee 2005", "Section Corner Tie-Card Project", "ISPLS HARN Committee 2006", and "ISPLS/IGIC HEIGHT MOD COMMITTEE 2007-2008". Below this menu is a "Search Documents" field with a "Go" button. On the right side, there is a logo for "projects.woolpert.com Team Collaboration Web-Site" and a "VeriSign Secure Site" badge with a "Click to verify" button. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the Start button, several open application windows, and the system tray with the time "9:45 AM".
